STUDY ART IN FLANDERS?

LUCA School of Arts is a creative hub and University of Applied Sciences and Arts in the Flemish region dedicated to art and design. It combines the strengths and expertise of five renowned Flemish higher education institutions for art and design. With a student population of about 4000 students, LUCA offers more than thirty programmes in Audio-visual Arts & Techniques, Interior & Product Design, Construction, Music & Drama, Visual Arts & Design and Teacher Training in the Arts.

LUCA School of Arts offers both professional and academic bachelor's degrees, master's degrees and advanced master's degrees. Together with KU Leuven, LUCA also organises an arts PhD programme.

An artistic hub

Students enjoy an immersive artistic and creative environment with numerous symposia and exhibitions, concerts, performances, and more. All these elements make LUCA what it is today: an intriguing community where creativity flourishes even after classes end.

Dedicated artists & designers

Students at LUCA are taught by a dedicated team of renowned practising artists, designers and architects. Many of our tutors continue to develop their artistic disciplines through research projects. Rather than imposing a particular style or way of working, our tutors guide students to find and formulate their own artistic solutions.

An international network

LUCA has an extensive international network of art and architecture schools spread across five continents. Students and staff therefore have the opportunity to participate in exchanges with up to two hundred higher education institutions both within and outside Europe.

LUCA School of Arts offers art education on 5 campuses in 4 cities in Belgium.
